Cove Lake State Park, with its 667 acres of land and 210 acre lake, is situated in a picturesque valley surrounded by the towering Cumberland Mountains. This park was established on the shores of Cove Lake, an arm of Norris Lake created by an auxiliary dam at Caryville, TN.

Cove Lake is one of Tennessee's most popular parks. Here the recreational opportunities are endless. Paddleboats and rowboats are available for rent all year long, and the Olympic size swimming pool is open during the summer months. There are scenic nature and bike trails that lead through the open grasslands and woodlands, and wildlife is abundant throughout the park. Hundreds of Canadian Geese make their winter home at Cove Lake.

The ancient Americans once inhabited this area. Mound Builders, as they were called, prospered along Cove Creek, from 1000 to 1200 AD. The University of Tennessee excavated their mounds and habitation sites in 1937. Raised earthen remnants of one mound are located at the end of "Goose Island."

Cove Lake State Park is located in East Tennessee's Campbell County, 30 miles northwest of Knoxville, on U.S. 25-W and I-75 between LaFollette and Lake City. From I-75, take Exit #134, travel 1/2 mile on Veterans Memorial Highway and take the first left turn.

Access Fees may apply. Call park for details.
